IF A MAN CAN "will" himself into the King dom of God he can "be" by his own will - He can "Am" which means "to exist" IF A MAN CAN EXIST BY HIS OWN power, then he is Jehovah which means "self-existent" "Whoever will" is not in the Greek text. In fact Whoever is not a Greek word. When people see the word whoever they want to automatically put the word "will" after it. Whoever will is mentioned one time in the N.T., but it does not say whoever will - IT SAYS The willing - Let him TAKE (Imp.) - Ps 110:3 The people shall be willing
